Community Clinical, Behavioral, & Social Services Resource Guide

❖ Introduction

Welcome to the Community Clinical, Behavioral, and Social Services Resource Guide for NNMC! Because our students, families and community are so important, we have compiled this extensive list of resources and services in the Rio Arriba and surrounding counties. This is a two-part tool: a community resource directory and an emergency crisis helpline guide. The purpose is to stimulate the development of an extended set of contacts at community agencies, specifically agencies, providers and resources who can meet the ongoing clinical, behavioral, and social service needs of the student population at NNMC and their families.

This tool will help to populate a resource guide to quickly and efficiently connect students to the services that can help meet their individual and unique needs whether this be related to childcare, financial assistance, housing support, behavioral health needs and so on. We are always available to answer questions and offer further support and guidance. As always, feel free to contact Counseling and Student Support Center if you need assistance navigating this guide.

The information contained in this publication is for general purposes only. This is not intended to provide medical or legal advice. Every effort has been made to ensure the accuracy of all information and resources listed in this publication. However, resources may swiftly change. Additionally, agencies and services may be operating under alternative schedules, offering modified services and/or implementing protocols in response to COVID-19. For more information on resources, it is always best practice to contact the listed resources directly to ensure the most up to date information. In the event of an error or omission in this publication, NNMC's responsibility shall be limited to the correction of the error in succeeding editions. Inclusion of resource listings in this publication does not constitute an endorsement on the part of NNMC. Should there be a discrepancy, providers/resources that are not listed, or any other feedback, please email jacqueline.ghion@nnmc.edu.

If you or someone you know are experiencing a mental health crisis or in immediate danger, call 911.
